DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 16-17 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected group, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 2/23/07.
2. Claims 6-15 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 2/23/07.

Oath/Declaration

3. The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:
The top portion indicating priority information is not legible.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

- a. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The recitation in claim 1, line 11, "a of the pressure head" is unclear. Clarification is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

b. Claims 1, 2 and 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sugiyama et al. Sugiyama et al discloses all of the limitations of the invention including a pressure assembly 27,29, detection mean 41, 43, 45 a controller 31, display means 33 and a lifting means 37. Sugiyama et al does not disclose the device being for the perineum muscle. The recitation that "for perineum region" has not been given patentable weight because it has been held that a preamble is denied the effect of a limitation where the claim is drawn to a structure and the portion of the claim following the preamble is a self-contained description of the structure not depending for completeness upon the introductory clause. Kropa v. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951). It has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

c. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim. Kim discloses all of the limitations of the invention including a pressure assembly 230 detection means 285 [paragraphs 36-37]. Kim does not disclose the device being for the perineum muscle. The recitation that "for perineum region" has not been given patentable weight because it has been held that a preamble is denied the effect of a limitation where the claim is drawn to a structure and the portion of the claim following the preamble is a self-contained description of the structure not depending for completeness upon the introductory clause. Kropa v. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951). It has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

d. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ishikawa et al. Ishikawa et al discloses all of the limitations of the invention including a pressure assembly 10 detection means 3. Ishikawa et al does not disclose the device being for the perineum muscle. The recitation that "for perineum region" has not been given patentable weight because it has been held that a preamble is denied the effect of a limitation where the claim is drawn to a structure and the portion of the claim following the preamble is a self-contained description of the structure not depending for completeness upon the introductory clause. Kropa v. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951). It has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

e. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim '660. Kim discloses all of the limitations of the invention including a pressure assembly 31 detection means 40. Kim does not disclose the device being for the perineum muscle. The recitation that "for perineum region" has not been given patentable weight because it has been held that a preamble is denied the effect of a limitation where the claim is drawn to a structure and the portion of the claim following the preamble is a self-contained description of the structure not depending for completeness upon the introductory clause. Kropa v. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951). It has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

f. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sugiyama et al in view of Pelczar. Sugiyama et al discloses all of the limitations of the invention except for a reset button. Pelczar teaches a reset button in paragraph 7. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include a reset button on a controller in order to restart the device while exercising.
